

Veteran and Military Family Mediation

- Concerned about new or old family dynamics?
- Anxious about conflict that may arise due to physical or emotional trauma that you experienced during active service?
- Do you want help planning arrangements or having difficult discussions with people you want to reunite with ?
- Do you have any other conflict that needs resolution?

The Mediation Process...

- Gives people a chance to speak, to be heard, and to hear each other.
- Provides an opportunity for people to understand each other and transform their relationship.
- Ensures that participants make their own decisions about the outcome of their conflict.
- Assists people to develop long-term solutions that meet the needs of everyone involved.

Mediators are available in every community in Maryland to start a mediation between you and your family members, or other significant people you have a relationship with.

Mediation can be utilized at any time.

Mediation is neutral,
CONFIDENTIAL, voluntary and free to all.

Community Mediators

Mediators listen, help clarify issues and guide you through a process to develop solutions.

Mediators do not take sides, make judgments or tell you what to do.

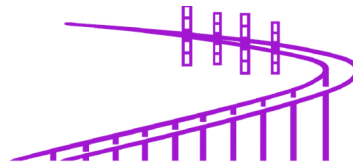

Mediators do not report any information back to your command.

To Begin the Process . . .

1. Call your local community mediation center (they are all listed inside), or
2. Call Community Mediation Maryland toll free at 888-826-2262

In Community Mediation Centers ...

- The mediators are highly trained volunteers who represent the diversity of the community they serve.
- The mediation occurs at a time and place convenient to the participants.
